"Hi, How Are You"

Daniel Johnston's legendary cassette is now a record and is perched atop the WFMU playlist while Daniel spends his time in a "loony bin" in wild West Virginia. If you're able to laugh and cry Daniel's songs will touch you if you give them a listen. (this is the first time I've recommended a record here and probably won't do it again.....)

I confess that I lied onlast month's playlist. There is no WFMU designer rain poncho and there was no fake band on the entire list (got plenty of wrong guesses though) This month 3 of the listings are imaginary (honest) and if you can guess all 3 I'll send you a WFMU sweatshirt and a WFMU refrigerator magnet.

Please don't bother sending station ID's by bands/musicians, but if they want to tape their favorite palindrome feel free to send them to Palindrome Of The Week Show, c/o WFMU. So far we've gotten contributions from Peter Blegvad and Baby Gramps.

Dress warmly,

David
