The campaign of four fellow public radio station to cut our power in half because of a 29 year old technical error has taken an enormous toll on WFMU, but at least we're still here to tell you about it... In our opinion, some of our adversaries had intended to spend us into the ground long ago. In just over 2 1/2 years our legal bills have now topped $200,000. We've been able to pay about 3/4 of that total from our on-air fund-drives. We're still almost completely listener supported so a cut of our power (and our audience) would be devastating.

To pay off some of our bills we've set up our second benefit concert series (see below). All of the performers are regular WFMU listeners and are donating their talents for our cause.

For those interested in the latest gory details, body counts and legalise, we'll have a new copy of our program guide, Lowest Common Denominator out in November. It's not too late to advertise, but call me or Ken Freedman immediately if not sooner...201-678-8264.

Although he's still editing LCD and doing a weekly show, Ken has stepped down as station manager after 6 distinguished years of service (and thousands of distinguished looking gray hairs). Ken has wanted to move on to other projects for 3 years now and stuck around to build our new studios and handle the legal skirmish. The extremely able-minded Bill Suggs took command in July, and I continue to run most of the (ho-hum) day-to-day radio stuff and benefit concerts. I'm available for phone calls on Thursdays (only) from 10-5. 201-266-7901

Free-form forever,

David Newgarden
